Inductive Bible Study, Step Two: Interpretation

An inductive Bible study approach will encourage us to approach the Scriptures with freshness and humility as we adopt the best habits of careful readers and thinkers. Last week, we saw that the three phases of inductive study are (1) observation (2) interpretation and (3) application. This evening we will focus on the middle step, in which we use the details and connections seen in the observation step to answer the question “What does this passage mean?”

- I. Observation
- II. Interpretation: What does this passage mean?
  - A. Let _____ rule
  - B. Let _____ interpret _____
  - C. Never base convictions on an _____ passage of Scripture
  - D. Take the _____ meaning (face value) unless the author or genre indicates otherwise
  - E. Look for the main message of the passage
  - F. Study the Old Testament in _____ of Jesus and the New Testament
    1. Where in timeline of redemptive history?
    2. How does it point to _____?
    3. How is this passage foundational for an understanding of NT Christianity?
  - G. Adopt the New Testament’s _____ towards the Old Testament passage
    1. How is this passage a fulfillment of something promised in the OT?
    2. How is this NT idea different from or similar to an OT teaching?
    3. In what way does this NT passage clarify, unveil, fulfill, or _____ something from the OT?

Mark 1:9-13:

Who are the characters in this passage?

What action is taking place?

Where and when is the action taking place?

Why is Mark sharing this information?

What parts need further study (connection to the Old Testament, word studies, Jesus fulfilling prophesy, etc.)?
